FARMERS' DAY OCTOBER 18TH

Business Men Meet and Decide upon Day for Second Annual Event. More Premiums, Better Entertainments and Other Features.

Farmers' Day, bigger and better than last year, will be observed in Gettysburg Saturday, October 18. This decision was reached at a meeting of the business men of town in the Law Library of the Court House Wednesday evening.

The celebration will be conducted on a much more pretentious scale than last year, there will be more entertainment for the visitors, more music, better premiums and many new features which will make the day worth while. A good start has been given the fund to meet the added expenses, and the liberal response, which has followed the first solicitation, promises sufficient funds to secure music and diversions galore.

The Farmers' Day celebration has as its head Wm. Arch McClean, and its treasurer, George E. Spangler, who occupied the same offices last year. The committee to visit the merchants with a view to securing their list of premiums is Roy P. Funkhouser, P. Ward Stallsmith and N. L. Minter. The committee on program and entertainment is C. Wm. Beales, John F. Walter and Philip R. Bickle. The soliciting of funds is in the hands of Penrose Myers.

At Wednesday evening's meeting many of the merchants announced their premiums and the general plan seems to be to give more and better prizes than were offered last year. A number of firms that did not come in on the plan last year regretted it when they witnessed its unqualified success and this year they, too, will offer premiums, swelling the number considerably. A complete list of premiums will be printed during the next few days.

October 18 was chosen after taking into consideration nearby attractions on other dates, fairs, holidays and various other events that would conflict with a Gettysburg day. Last year's celebration was on October 26.

Several parades are being planned by the entertainment committee. One of these is assured by the athletic management at college. Gettysburg and Muhlenberg play foot ball here as a special Farmers' Day attraction and a parade of the college boys carrying their orange and blue pennants and preceded by their band will form one of the interesting spectacles of the early afternoon. The other parade, of a different character, will likely take place late in the day. Foot ball is a sport which many Adams Countians do not frequently have the opportunity of seeing and it is believed that this game—a always a good one—will draw many of the younger people of the county to town.

Wednesday evening's meeting showed this year's Farmers' Day getting a good start and, with four weeks in which to complete arrangements, and a better understanding of the plan than last year, there seems to be every reason to believe that the day will go far ahead of the big success of 1912.

IS IT COAL?

Black Substance Resembling Coal Found Near York Springs.

An artesian well 200 feet deep has been dug at the York Springs Creamery by Kohl Brothers, of Myerstown. At the depth of 150 feet the well drillers struck a 14 ft. vein of black rock much resembling bituminous coal. Samples have been sent to Harrisburg for analysis. Abundance of water was struck at the depth of 195 feet and it is now gushing forth at the top at the rate of 65 gallons per minute.

REFUSE PARDON TO WM. EYLER

Effort Fails to Have Murderer of Howard Miller Pardoned. Two Gettysburg Attorneys Register Objections.

William Eyer, convicted of first degree murder in Adams County Court and later sent to the Eastern Penitentiary for life after his sentence was commuted by the Board of Pardons, was on Wednesday refused further consideration by that body.

Application for his pardon was made at the instance of Rev. Kenneth M. Craig, of Brooklyn, Md., formerly an Emmitsburg minister, near which town Eyer resided prior to the crime which cost the life of Howard Miller of Mount Joy township. Mr. Craig is somewhat noted as a poet and an author and he pleaded earnestly for Eyer's pardon, presenting a widely signed petition and letters from Eyer and his family. The prisoner, he said, had repented sincerely of his crime, had become thoroughly converted to the Christian faith and was now one of the best prisoners in the penitentiary.

Rev. Mr. Craig further presented letters from several mission workers who had come in contact with Eyer and who were sure of his repentance. Mr. Craig argued at some length for Eyer but his speech was followed immediately by a statement from one of the members of the board who had voted in 1907 for the commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

He said that he recalled distinctly the details of the case and that he regarded it as one of the most horrible murders that had been committed in this section, and saw no reason why any pardon should be granted at this time.

John D. Keith Esq., district attorney who tried the Eyer case for the Commonwealth, presented briefly the evidence produced at that time and Robert E. Wible Esq. offered further objections to the granting of a pardon.

Mr. Wible said that, prior to the murder of Howard Miller and the subsequent incarceration of Eyer, the neighborhood in which Eyer lived had been constantly in a state of excitement over rowdiness and law breaking. Since Eyer's arrest the condition has changed and the place is now peaceful. Mr. Wible stated that he believed this was due largely to the removal of Eyer as the disturbing influence.

It required but a very few minutes to determine the outcome of the case and Eyer still remains committed for a life term.

GUIDES FINED

Two Guides Fined for Violating Borough Ordinance.

Samuel Vaughn and James Weikert each paid $10.30 fine and costs at a hearing before Squire Hill this morning for violating the borough ordinance with regard to soliciting tourists and strangers more than two feet from the curb line. The information was laid by Officer Emmons.

It was developed at the hearing that on the morning of Sept. 6th, at the Western Maryland station, both of these guides solicited within the line, after having been warned by Mr. Emmons, along with all the other guides who were at the train, to stay back along their proper line at the edge of the walk.

The following witnesses were heard: Wallace Emmons, Samuel Vaughn, Arthur Vaughn, William Shearer, Charles Plank and Moses Bair.

Complaint against other guides was registered here this morning when an automobile party from Lancaster were so annoyed by solicitations that they decided to return home without seeing the battlefield rather than come in to further contact with the insistent men.

WALKED INTO REVOLVING SAW

John W. Benner Widely Known Resident of Mount Joy Township Receives Serious Injuries Loses Three Fingers and an Arm.

Walking directly into a rapidly revolving saw at the farm of Edward Forney in Mount Joy township this morning, John W. Benner, a well known resident of that township, was terribly cut at a number of places on his body and only saved from fatal injury by the stopping of the engine. The power was not shut off, however, before he had suffered the loss of three fingers from his right hand and the bones of the left forearm were sawed through requiring the amputation of that member. It was also found necessary to take off the one knee cap.

Mr. Benner was carrying off the boards from the mill which had been started about eight o'clock to prepare lumber for a shed which Mr. Forney is building. He had just carried away the first slab and was returning when, in some manner that has not been explained, he stepped immediately in front of the revolving blade.

The sharp teeth first struck his right knee, lacerating it badly. In trying to save himself, he put his right hand in front of the teeth and three fingers were cut off. His left arm was next caught, being cut almost entirely off when the saw passed through both bones.

His brother, Edward Benner, rushed to his side and Mr. Forney stopped the engine. These two men, with several others, carried him to the house and Doctors Crouse and Kohler, of Littlestown and Dr. Elliott, of Harney, were quickly sent for. Mr. Benner bled profusely from his many wounds and is now greatly weakened from the shock and loss of blood. He is sixty years of age.

After the physicians had arrived at the Forney home and had given preliminary attention the injured man was removed to his home and there the left arm was amputated a short distance below the elbow and the knee cap taken off.

Mr. Benner is one of the most widely known farmers of Mount Joy township and the news of his misfortune spread rapidly. His large circle of friends and acquaintances trust that he may recover speedily.

LICENSE LAW

May Hunt Free upon Your Own Land by New Law.

In discussing the new hunters' license Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, State Game Commissioner, makes this statement: "I desire to say the law provides that a land-owner, or a tenant, residing upon and cultivating land, may hunt upon that land without securing said license; he may also hunt upon land immediately adjacent and connected with his land, without the license, if he secures permission to so hunt from those who control the adjacent land. This privilege covers only the property upon which the owner or tenant resides and cultivates."

Fifteen days have been given the sportsmen in which to secure the license and tag, and the several game protectors of the State in connection with the State Police and others interested in the enforcement of the law will now be directed to arrest individuals who may be found hunting without license. These licenses can be secured only from the several county treasurers of the Commonwealth or from justices of the peace who may have been authorized by the county treasurer to represent him in this matter. They may be secured either personally or by letter. A description of the applicant is necessary. The Game Commission has no authority whatever to issue these licenses to any other person than a county treasurer.

ERECTED NEW TEXAS MEMORIAL

First Southern State Memorial on West Confederate Avenue is Erected. Women of the Confederacy Finance the Plan.

The first monument to be erected on West Confederate avenue by a southern state was put in position on Wednesday when the granite memorial to Hood's Brigade was raised. The expense of the monument is borne by the Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Mabel M. Bates, chairman.

The monument is of two large granite stones, placed on a heavy foundation and containing a suitable inscription. Hood's Brigade was composed of the First, Fourth and Fifth Texas Infantry and the Thirtieth Arkansas Infantry. It was commanded by Brigadier General J. B. Robertson, father of General Felix Robertson who was Texas' representative for the arrangements for the fiftieth anniversary celebration.

The new monument stands on West Confederate avenue near the intersection with the Emmitsburg Road. Its interest lies chiefly in the fact that it is the first memorial by the South along that avenue, the Virginia monument thus far having only the pedestal erected. Numerous markers erected under the direction of the National Park Commission show the positions and movements of the Confederate commands.

No arrangements have been made for the dedication of the monument erected Wednesday.

ALLEGED PRIEST ROBBED CHURCH

Schmidt Accused of Stealing Easter Collection.
HAD ANOTHER APARTMENT

Murderer of Girl in New York Also
Said to Have Picked Pocket of Visiting Clergyman.
New York, Sept. 18.—Two more crimes took their place on the police record of Hans Schmidt, the priest, who already has confessed that he is a murderer and a counterfeiter. In ransacking Schmidt's rooms detectives found evidence that Schmidt had stolen $400 from the Easter collection at St. Joseph's church, and that he had robbed a visiting priest, who spent the night at St. Joseph's rectory as a guest of the local clergy. An empty purse found in Schmidt's rooms proved to be one which the visiting priest had lost not long ago. Schmidt still insisted that neither Ernest A. Muret, his dentist friend, nor Anna Ammiller, the girl he murdered, knew anything about his counterfeiting operations. In reply to a written question sent to his cell he wrote:

"Anna knew nothing of my plans to solve the social question by creating money for all the poor people here and abroad."
Schmidt maintains that he made bogus money from philanthropic motives only. The case against Muret made little progress, so far as was known outside the police department. Detectives investigating Schmidt's record learned that he had rented another apartment at 2562 Eighth avenue under the name of Jacob Schneider. This apartment was engaged on September 5, three days after the murder of the Ammiller girl. In its rooms the police found clothing belonging to the priest and some woman's wearing apparel.

No man of Schmidt's varied pursuits could be insane, the detectives say, and they look upon him as a criminal with a master mind; a man trained in many things which he turned to account in his operations. Schmidt's explanation of everything—of the murder of Anna Ammiller and of the counterfeiting—is that he did it at the command of God. These declarations, the detectives say, are part of a plan to feign insanity.
Alphonse G. Koebler, his lawyer, after a talk with Schmidt in the Tombs said Schmidt admitted that he committed the murder, or, as he termed it, "performed the sacrifice," that he was preparing to manufacture counterfeit $10 and $20 bills, and that he had another impersonation in which he posed as "Dr. Emil Mollere," in which capacity he was working on a medicine which "would reduce the number of children in the world."
Admissions by Schmidt also established the other charges and as to the counterfeiting and illegal medical practice, Koebler said Schmidt insisted that he was following out those lines under God-given commands.

PRIEST'S FRIEND A SUICIDE
Murder of Girl in Germany Charged to New York's Arch Criminal.
Ashenburg, Germany, Sept. 18.—A retired school inspector, named Helm committed suicide at Moenchsberg, near here. He was a friend and a regular correspondent of Father Johannes Schmidt. He was considered insane by many of the villagers.
The authorities are inclined to be lieve that Schmidt may have been responsible for the murder of a telephone girl named Haas, whose body was found near his parents' home a short time before he left here.

'SEPTEMBER MORN' ON BACK
Barred From Navy, Applicant Says He Will Drape Tattooed Figure.
New Orleans, Sept. 18.—Because recruiting officers here thought a reproduction of "September Morn" tattooed on his back would be "demoralizing to the navy," H. L. Foote, 24 years old of Miltonville, Miss., was refused admittance to the United States Navy.
Foote, who otherwise had qualified, declared that he would have the figure draped and re-apply.

SAW STRANGE DUEL

Tells of Fight Between Men Armored With Turtle Shells.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—A tale of battle between two men armored with turtle shells on Christmas island in the Pacific, which is supposed to be uninhabited, was brought to this port by Captain Richard Quick, master of the American ship Edward Sewell.
The ship was close to the island according to Captain Quick, when the crew rushed to the rail at the spectacle of a band of almost nude men who stood cheering and yelling around two others who were engaged in a deadly duel. A dasky skinned native woman with her dark hair stretching to her waist stood watching the contest with her hands clinched and her gleeful body bowed as the outcome of quarrel was of vital import to her.
The contestants were covered with many small turtle shells as armor, and larger shells were used as shields. With rudely hewn swords, of a material which Captain Quick could not distinguish, the men were jabbing and striking each other. Long after the ship passed the island the duellists could be seen through a glass still fighting.

Caminetti Gets 18 Months and Digs Two Years.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—Maury I. Diggs, former State architect of California, was sentenced by Judge Van Fleet, in the United States District Court, to serve a year in the State penitentiary at San Quentin and to pay a fine of $2,000 for violation of the Mann white slave traffic act.
F. Drew, Caminetti, son of the United States Commissioner of Immigration, was sentenced to eighteen months at San Quentin and to pay a fine of $1,500 for a similar offense.
Diggs and Caminetti were convicted of white slavery as a result of their elopement to Reno, Nev., with Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris.
A ten-day stay of execution was granted and for that period Diggs was admitted to bail in $15,000 and Caminetti in $10,000. Meanwhile the defense will perfect an appeal to the United States Court of Appeals.
Caminetti, Diggs and the two girls fled to Reno March 10, were arrested in Reno, March 14, brought back to Sacramento and the men were released three days later on $10,000 bail. The case then hung fire until April 12, when Diggs and Caminetti were indicted.
The prosecution lagged, but the case jumped suddenly into national notoriety when John L. McNab resigned as United States District Attorney, saying, in an open letter to President Wilson, that political influence was being brought on the Attorney-General to prevent the cases from coming to trial. McNab's resignation was accepted, special prosecutors were named and the trials began August 5.

Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Gettysburg resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.
Mrs. J. Menchey, 46 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Since I used and publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. I never enjoyed very good health and when kidney complaint came on, it caused me much distress. I had pains in my back and frequently had dizzy spells and chills. When a friend told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at the People's Drug Store. This remedy acted promptly and before long, I was in good health."

MEXICANS' VICTIM POTTSTOWN MAN

Bryan Demands Slayers of Morris Root be Arrested.

GIVES LIND INSTRUCTIONS

Despite Huerta's Attitude U. S. Warships Will be Kept in Mexican Waters.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Formal demand for the arrest and punishment of the slayers of Morris P. Root, Pottstown, Pa., was made upon Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, by Secretary of State Bryan, following the receipt of information of Root's death at the hands of bandits.

Secretary Bryan also cabled additional instructions to former Governor Lind at Vera Cruz, based on President Huerta's message to the Mexican Congress. He refused to make public the details of his message to Lind.

American battleships probably will remain in Mexican waters, despite Provisional President Huerta's declaration that they will be unwelcome after another month.

There was no official expression of this Government's attitude, but it was plainly indicated that the United States would keep its vessels off the Mexican Pacific and Atlantic coasts so long as the present insecurity of Americans warranted.

It was pointed out that in international law the United States clearly had a right to protect its citizens in a foreign country where internal disorders prevailed, and to that end dispatch warships to ports where American interests demanded protection.

It was pointed out that American warships in Mexican waters would continue to adhere strictly to the injunction of President Huerta not to "entail an attack upon the dignity and sovereignty of Mexico," but further that it was not likely that the Wilson administration would accept dictation from Huerta as to the circumstances in which American vessels might lie off the Mexican coast.

It is thought that Huerta's move is a shrewd step to try to get rid of the American ships on or before October 25—the date on which he says the permission to remain expires and the day before the scheduled elections. Navy Department officials say the battleships Louisiana and Michigan, now at Vera Cruz, would not have to move, no difference what action the Mexican government takes, because they already are more than three miles off shore and therefore technically on the high seas.

It was said at the state department that, so far, there appeared to be nothing in Huerta's message to cause the United States to change its attitude.

ROOT IN MEXICO MANY YEARS

Pottstown Man Was Formerly Superintendent of Iron Company.

Pottstown, Sept. 18.—Morris P. Root, who met death at the hands of bandits in Mexico was a member of a well known family here. He was the son of the late Eli and Sarah B. Root.

He left Pottstown in 1898, to take charge of a mining operation at Tepic, Mexico. He had been superintendent of the Pottstown Iron Company's Works and an inspector of the Schuylkill Valley division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and was well known in this section of the State.

His brother, R. Morgan Root, has been in communication with Congressman Diefenderfer, of this district, and other Washington officials concerning Morris's reported death and only Tuesday had word from Washington that went to confirm his brother's fate and that efforts were being made to run down the bandits who were responsible for his death.

It was later reported that Root had been slain and that his body had been cut to pieces.

THE SULZER TRIAL

Three Men Who Figure Prominently in Impeachment.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Here are three figures on whom the eyes of the state of New York as well as the entire country are now turned. The impeachment trial of Governor William Sulzer opens in Albany on Thursday morning. At the top is the accused governor. In the center is Chief Judge Edgar M. Cullen, and at the bottom is Robert P. Wagner, who will be the presiding officer at the trial. As he was president pro tempore of the senate, he became president when Lieutenant Governor Glynn was automatically promoted to the office of governor after the impeachment articles had been adopted by the assembly.

OLD SOLDIERS PARADE AGAIN DESPITE RAIN

Several Thousand Pass Reviewing Stand in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tennessee Sept. 18.—Through a misty rain several thousand Union veterans and Sons of Veterans marched in the forty-seventh annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic. The unfavorable weather conditions did not dampen the ardor of participants or the thousands of spectators.

Enthusiasm of the crowds frequently interrupted the progress of the parade. It was with difficulty that hundreds who rushed into the ranks of the marchers to shake hands with the veterans were forced back.

An unofficial order conveyed by an unidentified person to Colonel L. L. Dickinson, adjutant of the N. B. Forest Camp of Confederate Veterans prevented that camp from participating in the parade. Thirty Confederate veterans, clad in gray, were ready to march with Colonel H. Anson and Forsythe Post 15, of Toledo, of which he is commander. Great disappointment was expressed by Union and Confederate veterans and an investigation has been instituted.

The order purported to come from Commander-in-chief Alfred Beers, of the G. A. R., but General Beers emphatically denied knowledge of it. Half a dozen Confederate veterans, in gray uniforms, were taken "prisoners" by Union veterans during the progress of the parade, and amid shouts of laughter, forced to participate in it, being heartily cheered by spectators.

The parade was led by Commander-in-chief Beers and staff in carriages. When the van reached the reviewing stand on Broad street the commander-in-chief and his staff, together with army officers and civic officials, ascended the stand.

From the moment of the appearance of the parade the ovation accorded the veterans was almost continuous.

GOV. SULZER PUT ON TRIAL

Impeachment Court Sits in Albany Today.

MAY TAKE 40 TO CONVICT

Counsel for Accused Official Questions Right of Members of Investigating Committee Sitting With Court.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The impeachment court to try Governor Sulzer on charges of failing to report campaign contributions and diverting some of the funds to his own use, convened today in the senate chamber of the capital.

Every available inch of space in the gallery was packed with spectators, many of whom were women.

The court is composed of the judges of the Court of Appeals and members of the state senate. Governor Sulzer did not attend. He was represented by a large array of lawyers, headed by D. Cady Herrick. Alton B. Parker is chief counsel for the prosecution.

One of the first questions raised by Governor Sulzer's counsel was the right of certain members of the investigating committee to sit as members of the court.

These Senators are James J. Frawley, New York; Samuel J. Ramsperger, Buffalo; Felix J. Sanner, Brooklyn, Democrats; and Elton R. Brown, Watertown, Republican.

Counsel for Governor Sulzer questioned the property of any member of the senate sitting as a member of the High Court who may be called upon to testify before it. These questions and others, including the expected attack by Governor Sulzer's counsel upon the validity of the impeachment proceedings will be determined by the court of impeachment itself. Until these are decided no evidence will be taken.

Scores of witnesses will be called for both sides during the trial, estimates as to the length of which vary from one to two months. Although the impeached executive's legal advisors have not disclosed any of their plans, it is generally understood Governor Sulzer will not attend the sessions while the preliminary arguments are under way. Should the validity of the proceedings be upheld by the court, it is expected that the presence of the accused official in the court room daily will be a feature.

Mrs. Sulzer will be one of the most important witnesses for the defense according to the governor's friends. She has been going over evidence in the case with her husband at the executive mansion since her recovery from the nervous breakdown following her alleged admission that she was responsible for some of the Wall street transactions attributed to her husband.

If the ten judges sit with the forty nine members of the senate, the two-thirds vote required to expel Mr. Sulzer, as calculated by the assembly impeachment managers, would be forty.

ROBBERS GOT $200,000 WORTH

Latest Summer Raid in New York's "Millionaire Row."

New York, Sept. 18.—Residents of "Millionaire's Row," on 79th and 80th streets, just east of Central Park, estimated that robberies during the summer had cost them $200,000.

The latest robbery was committed at the home of Mrs. Karl Wallach. Mrs. Wallach's son said the thieves had taken silverware, jewelry, furs and household goods worth $100,000.

Several families learned of their losses for the first time, when they reopened their homes after being absent during the summer.

The robbers entered the Wallach residence through a skylight in the roof and cleaned out the house in a leisurely fashion. In one of the bedrooms they established a small smelting furnace in which they melted down the silverware to convenient ingots. They left the improvised furnace burning behind them.

Among the lost valuables Mr. Wallach catalogued furs valued at $20,000, a painting valued at $5,500 and two chests of silver.

Child Accuses Merchant.

Mount Holly, N. J., Sept. 18.—While running away in fear that Italians here would carry out threats to kill him, Joseph Thomas, a merchant of Mount Holly was caught by Sheriff Jordan near Bridgeboro and is now in the county jail. Mary Volarino, five years of age, daughter of Raffaele Volgarino of White street, makes serious allegations against Thomas.

Limit Reserve Bank Loans.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The House adopted an amendment to the currency bill limiting the Federal Reserve Banks, in their loan activities to transactions with the Government. It was designed to prevent those banks from competing in commercial business with the member banks.

10,000 Negroes in Session.

Nashville, Sept. 18.—The National Negro Baptist convention opened a six-day session here. An attendance of 10,000 is expected. A feature will be a semi-centennial celebration of "fifty years of freedom." Booker T. Washington will speak Friday night.
